1 . Main points

- Overall retail footfall decreased in the week to 8 June 2025, by 7% when compared with the previous week and by 2% when compared with the equivalent week of 2024; shopping centres saw the largest week on week decrease of 10%, coinciding with the end of half-term (MRI OnLocation).
- The seasonally adjusted Direct Debit failure rate increased by 1% in May 2025 compared with April 2025 and increased by 6% when compared with May 2024; the average transaction amount in May 2025 remained broadly unchanged compared with April 2025 but increased by 2% when compared with May 2024 (Vocalink, Pay.UK).
- In our latest Opinions and Lifestyle Survey (OPN), around 1 in 3 households reported difficulty in affording their energy bills (33% very or somewhat difficult, 60% very or somewhat easy) and when asked what they are doing because of increases in cost of living, around 1 in 3 (36%) households reported using less fuel such as gas or electricity (initial findings for May 2025 from our OPN, publishing on 20 June 2025).
- When looking ahead to July 2025, over half (52%) of businesses reported that they were not considering raising prices and for the 48% who were considering raising prices, or were unsure, labour costs (21%), prices of raw materials (15%) and energy prices (14%) were cited as the most-commonly reported reasons for doing so (initial results from Wave 134 of the Business Insights and Conditions Survey).
- The System Price of electricity and the System Average Price (SAP) of gas both increased in the week to 8 June 2025 compared with the previous week by 12% and 1%, respectively; they also both increased when compared with the equivalent week of 2024 by 22% and 3%, respectively (Elexon, National Gas Transmission).
- The total number of ship visits to major UK ports was broadly unchanged in the week to 8 June 2025 compared with the previous week, but decreased by 6% when compared with the equivalent week of 2024; this differed for cargo and tanker ship visits which increased by 5% in the latest week but was broadly unchanged when compared with the equivalent week of 2024 (exactEarth).
- The total number of Energy Performance Building Certificates (EPCs) for new dwellings in the week to 8 June 2025 increased by 13% compared with the previous week; when compared with the equivalent week of 2024, it fell by 14% (Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government).

These are official statistics in development, and we advise caution when using the data. The data sources used to compile these indicators are regularly reviewed to ensure they are representative and relevant, which may mean indicators change at short notice. Read more in Section 5: Data sources and quality.

2 . Latest indicators at a glance

Notes:

1. Card spending over time is pushed upwards by the impacts of both inflation on value of transactions and cash-to-card conversion.
2. Revolut adjustments to user count are at an aggregate level and as such age bands may not adjust evenly.
3. Indicators with SA in the title have been seasonally adjusted.

4 . Glossary

Real-time indicator

A real-time indicator provides insights into economic activity using close-to-real-time big data, administrative data sources, rapid response surveys or experimental estimates, which represent useful economic and social concepts.

Seasonal adjustment

Seasonal adjustment is the identification and removal of consistent and systematic variation in time series associated with the time of year. For more information on seasonal variation, and how we implement seasonal adjustment, see Section 2 two of our Economic activity and social change in the UK, real-time indicators methodology article.

5 . Data sources and quality

Official statistics in development

These statistics are labelled as official statistics in development. Until September 2023, these were called "experimental statistics". Read more about the change in our Guide to official statistics in development.

We are developing how we collect and produce the data to improve the quality of these statistics. Find out more in our Economic activity and social change in the UK, real-time indicators methodology article.

Once the developments are complete, we will review the statistics with the Statistics Head of Profession. We will decide if the statistics are of sufficient quality and value to be published as official statistics, or if further development is needed. Production may be stopped if they are not of sufficient quality or value. Users will be informed of the outcome and any changes.

We value your feedback on these statistics. If you would like to get in touch, please email realtime.indicators@ons.gov.uk.

Dataset release dates and intended release frequency

Latest release dates and intended release frequency of our associated datasets are available in this section. Please note that there may be some change to the intended release frequency for a variety of reasons, such as data availability. If you would like further information about any of these datasets, or previous release dates, please email realtime.indicators@ons.gov.uk.

Strengths and limitations

These statistics have been produced to provide timely indicators of the effect of developing world events on the UK economy and society. We use close-to-real-time big data, administrative data sources, rapid response surveys, or official statistics in development.

The data presented in this bulletin are reviewed and refreshed on a regular basis. Indicators are swapped in and out of the publication based on their suitability and availability.

Seasonality

Seasonal fluctuations are likely to be present in many of these indicators, so caution must be applied when interpreting changes in series that are not seasonally adjusted.
