1 . For July to September 2014

- There were 954,000 young people (aged from 16 to 24) in the UK who were Not in Education, Employment or Training (NEET), a decrease of 12,000 from April to June 2014 and down 142,000 from a year earlier
- The percentage of all young people in the UK who were NEET was 13.1%, down 0.1 percentage points from April to June 2014 and down 1.9 percentage points from a year earlier
- Just under half (47%) of all young people in the UK who were NEET were looking for work and available for work and therefore classified as unemployed. The remainder were either not looking for work and/or not available for work and therefore classified as economically inactive

2 . In this bulletin

This Statistical Bulletin contains estimates for Young People Not in Education, Employment or Training (NEET) in the UK. An article providing background information \(88.7 Kb Pdf\) is available on the ONS website. The Bulletin is published four times a year in February, May, August and November. All estimates discussed in this Statistical Bulletin are for the United Kingdom and are seasonally adjusted. The figures discussed in this Statistical Bulletin are obtained from the Labour Force Survey (a survey of households) and are therefore estimates, not precise figures.

This Statistical Bulletin is accompanied by a data table in spreadsheet format \(391.5 Kb Excel sheet\).

. Background notes

1. Further statistics on young people in the labour market for the UK were published on 12 November 2014 within the main Labour Market Statistics release and are available at data table A06 \(2.51 Mb Excel sheet\) . Information on availability of sub-national estimates of Young People who are NEET is available in an article published on the website \(88.7 Kb Pdf\) .
2. This release contains revisions to all previously published estimates as a result of reweighting the Labour Force Survey to bring it into line with population estimates based on the 2011 Census. An article describing the reweighting was published on 23 September 2014. The estimates provided in this release are consistent with the estimates for young people published in the main labour market release.
3. The next bulletin will be published on 26 February 2015. A list of the job titles of those given pre-publication access to the contents of this Statistical Bulletin is available on the website.
