Hi Roger,

Thanks for the heads up, and the links to the HMICS report. I think it'll be good to regularise the situation by having the statistics out, regularising the position vis-s-vis the Police Scotland management information.

In the meantime my team and Nicola's will continue to work on the issues arising from the assessment; there may be merit in stepping back a little to review the timetable. It would be really good, from an assessment perspective, to get any feedback from users about their experience of or reaction to the bulletin you'll publish on the 25th.

Regards,

Richard.

Scottish Police Recorded Crime timing and HMICS audit

I wanted to let you know that following the HMICS audit published yesterday, I will announce tomorrow that the Scottish Police Recorded Crime 2013-14 figures will be published on Tuesday 25th November. Attached is the note that I'm going to send to users.

You have probably already seen the HMICS audit, but for completeness I have attached a link to the report and their press release.

Best wishes

Roger
