Thank you for the letter. I have discussed this with my classification colleagues, who I understand are already in contact with your people at a working level. The timetable you suggest looks deliverable to us, and we will proceed on that basis. As always, there is an element of uncertainty: sometimes our work turns up issues that require further investigation. Nonetheless, by bringing this to our attention early we are well placed to resolve this issue speedily.

All the best,

Jonathan Athow | Deputy National Statistician and Director General, Economic Statistics | Office for National Statistics
