To all ScotStat members with an interest in justice statistics,

we are hosting an event on the morning of 6 October to bring together producers and users of Scottish crime statistics.
The event will be held in central Edinburgh.
The purpose of the event is to give users and producers of crime statistics an opportunity to discuss The Scottish Crime and Justice Survey and Recorded Crime in Scotland.
Presentations from justice analysts will include 'How to get maximum benefit from the Scottish Crime and Justice Survey',
'Recorded Crime in Scotland' and 'A Tale of Two Sources: Bringing Together Scotland's Crime Statistics'. There will also be a presentation from the Scottish Police Association (title to be confirmed).
Mostly though there will be a lot of opportunity to discuss the uses, potential uses, quality, comparability, accessibility and presentation of crime statistics and what (if anything) needs to change on these points.
If you are interested in attending please let us know by 12
September, and confirmation of whether a place has been secured will be emailed to all by the 17th September. Send the following details to scotstat@scotland.gsi.gov.uk :
Name
Email address
Job title (or interest)
Organisation (if any) Sector (if any)

kind regards,
