

RESPONDENT: 2939290152 – Jackie Powell
SECTOR: Unknown - Individual

Q1 - What are your views of the different census approaches described in the consultation document?

I believe we should carry on the same & try to encourage more people to submit their response using Email which I suppose is cheaper than paper submissions. I do not believe that the 2nd option using info from various sources would be detailed enough & would need collating instead of the present system which already has all the info together

Q2 - Please specify any significant uses of population and housing statistics that we have not already identified.

/

Q3 - Please specify any significant additional benefits of population and housing statistics that we have not already identified.

/

Q4 - What would the impact be if the most detailed statistics for very small geographic areas and small population groups were no longer available? High, medium, low or no impact?

High

If medium or high, please give further information.

It depends on what is your particular need. For family historians it would be a potential significant loss

Q5 - What would the additional benefit be if more frequent (i.e. annual) statistics about population characteristics were available for areas like local authorities and electoral wards? High, medium, low or no additional benefit?

Low

If medium or high please give further information.

Q6 - Please specify any significant uses of census information for historical research that we have not already identified.

/

Q7 - What advantages or disadvantages for genealogical or historical research can you see from a move to a solution based on archiving administrative data sources?

I CAN'T SEE any. Some people would probably want this info as well as the Census.

Q8 - What are your views of the risks of each census approach and how they might be managed?

The fact that it's still a 'snapshot' in time, but surely if more people submit 'online' then, updates could be made 'online' in the intervening years?

Q9 - Are there any other issues that you believe we should be taking into account?
